

Neighbors & Community Members

As awareness of dementia grows, we can take action to create dementia friendly communities.

While every part of the community has a unique role in meaningfully supporting people with dementia and their care partners, some actions can be taken by all members of the community. The following guide provides information about dementia, and outlines steps and actions we can all take to ensure our communities are supportive of persons living with dementia.

What is Dementia?

Dementia is a general term for a loss of memory and other thinking abilities that is serious enough to interfere with activities of daily life. Dementia has many causes. Alzheimer’s disease, the most common cause of dementia, is a disease of the brain that leads to problems with memory, thinking, and behavior. Alzheimer’s and other dementias are not a normal part of aging.

Ready to implement dementia friendly practices?

FOLLOW THE STEPS:

1

PREPARE

- Recognize signs of dementia and difference from normal aging.
- Know local services that help people with dementia and their care partners.
- Report suspected abuse, neglect, or financial exploitation.

2

LEARN

- Educate others in the community about the signs of dementia.
- Learn to use dementia friendly communication skills to increase support and reduce stigma.
- Raise awareness by involving persons of all ages in dementia education.

3

RESPOND

- Support people with dementia and their care partners and families to help them continue in their roles and develop strengths.
- Encourage opportunities for people with dementia and their care partners to connect with others.
- Raise awareness, reduce stigma, and promote support in your community and others by spreading dementia friendly principles.
