We are here to help..... Here is what we do.....

Hospice Support: Our volunteers provide compassionate non-medical support and care and are there to hold a hand, to listen, to comfort, they may prepare a meal, brush their patient's hair, and help with other general grooming needs. They may run errands and lend the much needed emotional support, care, and guidance to their patients long before the patient qualifies for medical hospice.

Of equal importance is the direct support, respite, and guidance given to the care-giving family members, who struggle with what is often a first time and overwhelming experience.

Grief Support: Our clients receive professional support which allows them to heal from the adverse emotional and physical effects that are presented by grief. Groups are available for people of all ages and from all walks of life.

Lending closet: We have wheelchairs, shower chairs and walkers, canes and other items which are loaned to anyone in need completely free of charge.

Errand Angels: provides volunteers who run errands (pick up prescriptions, grocery shopping, etc.) and provide transportation to doctors appointments etc.
